Dear Mr. Willis and Mr. Hinners:

Your box of thank you cards were a welcome sight here at the Colorado Springs Police Department (CSPD). It was one of the most thoughtful "care packages" we have received in a long time.

The note you included, along with the signed cards, is a reminder of the support that is out there in communities all over the country. I read, with great pleasure, comments on the cards such as, "So I want you to know I'm part of the silent majority of Americans who deeply respect and appreciate those in your profession," and "I stand with the overwhelming majority of law-abiding Americans who appreciate your bravery, your sacrifice, and your professionalism."

These cards of thanks will soon be passed out to officers in every division.

I, along with the many officers that work for the CSPD, are grateful to have your support and the support of your community.

Sincerely,

Vincent Niski
Chief of Police
