To Whom It May Concern,

As a small university police department, we are extremely grateful for the generous donation of 20 Trauma Packs that your organization donated to our department. In these uncertain times at an institution of higher education, we have unfortunately have become a target for those less desirable to gain media attention and take the innocent lives of those wanting to better their lives. These packs will help should a situation ever arise. We are incredibly thankful for community partners and organizations that help smaller underfunded departments. Our department will be issuing them to our road patrol officers after we have trained and become familiar with the packs and their contents.

We sincerely appreciate your generous donations,
